

Telophase Corporation Announces Award of the DoD National Security Education Program's National Student Tracking System

Arlington, VA – September 9, 2009

Telophase Corporation, a leading 8(a) systems integrator for the federal government, announced today that it was awarded the development and implementation of the Department of Defense National Security Education Program's (NSEP) National Student Tracking System. The award was a Small Business set-aside.

Telophase Corporation is tasked to build a new web application system for the Language Flagship grant programs under NSEP's national security initiatives. Telophase will work with NSEP customer to analyze business process, define functional requirement and target to implement a National Online Student Tracking System, which centralizes the flagship's student data for analyzing and reporting and to support the need for tracking program students.

Telophase's support will include the following: Program and Project Management, Business and Functional Analysis, Application Design and Development, Database Integration and Data Importing Services, Reporting Services, and Security Compliance.

Telophase has a good understanding of the growth of the program and that the number of students is increasing. Therefore, a greater emphasis will need to be given to routinize the collection and tracking of all Flagship student data. We are confident that we will reach our goal of dramatically improve data integrity and minimize inconsistency of student data across programs", said Firoze Ahmed, Vice President, Business Development

About NSEP

The National Security Education Program (NSEP) is a major Federal initiative designed to build a broader and more qualified pool of U.S. citizens with foreign language and international skills. It consists of five initiatives that represent broad strategic partnerships with the U.S. education community designed to serve the needs of U.S. national security and national competitiveness. These initiatives integrate the best components of language learning and international education developed in conjunction with progressively minded partners throughout the U.S. education community.

NSEP focuses on the critical languages and cultures of Asia, Africa, Eastern Europe, the Middle East, and Latin America. Participants are involved in innovative, intensive, and long-term programs designed to provide meaningful opportunities to gain significant competencies in these languages and cultures.

NSEP is unique in the commitment of its award recipients to proceed into public service upon completion of their academic studies. Each NSEP award recipient must demonstrate a commitment to bring his or her extraordinary skills to the Federal Government through employment within one of its many agencies and departments.

About Telophase

Founded in 1998, Telophase's mission is to provide innovative information technology solutions and services to federal and commercial clients by offering a unique value proposition that focuses on engaging customers in a highly tailored, personalized manner. Telophase empowers clients by assisting them in leveraging advanced technologies to improve productivity, enhance collaboration, secure information, streamline decision-making, and provide better service to their customers and stakeholders. Telophase associates have received numerous awards and accolades from clients such as the Department of Defense Tricare Management Activity (TMA) for their outstanding performance in support of the Military Health System (MHS) information systems environment.

Contact Information

Firoze Ahmed
(703) 312-7550
info@telophase.com

###